WHICH AP HISTORY SHOULD I TAKE?

WHAP	BOTH	APUSH
I have an interest in the history of other cultures, including those from Asia, Africa, and the Americas and making relevant, meaningful connections between global history and the world today. I enjoy making connections between people and events across the globe and throughout history. I have always wanted to learn about the Mongols. I want to learn about why world is the way it is today.	I enjoy learning about history. I like reading, listening to, or watching things about history without a teacher assigning it. I am able to read for understanding on my own to prepare for class. I am able to devote 30-60 min to prepare for each class.	I am interested studying America's past and making relevant, meaningful connections between history and the present. I enjoy discussing ethical and controversial issues that involve America (both historical events and current events). I have always wanted to learn about psychedelics and the counterculture. I want to learn about why America is the way it is today.
AP World History covers a longer timeframe and essentially all regions of the globe. As such the historical content will focus far less on specific details and instead offer a broader overview of trends, connections, and patterns.	Both AP history classes use the same skills and test structure: Historical Reasoning Skills: Causation, Comparison, Continuity and Change over time. Writing: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • LEQ: Long Essay Question • DBQ: Document based Question • SAQ: Short Answer Question Exam: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Stimulus Based Multiple Questions 	AP United States History covers a narrower timeframe and single region from colonial times to the present. As such, APUSH will offer more detailed historical content focused on the United States, as well as looking at patterns and trends over time.
